Superintendent Director

Members of the Greater Lowell Technical High School class of 2008, it's hard to believe, but in a few short moments you will receive your high school diplomas. Can you believe it? Do you remember walking into your freshman English class? Does it feel like yesterday or a hundred years ago?

Well a lot has happened since you entered the doors at Greater Lowell in 2004. In the fall of your freshman year, the Red Sox won their first World Series since 1918 and they completed the bookends for you by winning the World Series again in the fall of your senior year. Gryphon athletics gave you a lot to cheer about as well. They captured the 2006 Division One Markham Award for having the best combined statewide athletic record for the school year. And in the fall of 2007 we watched democracy in action with the changing of the guard from Congressman Meehan to our current Congresswoman Nikki Tsongas, the state's only female member. Finally, what now seems like whining, there were numerous articles in 2004 written about the outrage over gas prices rising to $2.19 per gallon – If I only knew then what I know now.

Whatever it has felt like, you have all reached this point, and you will be embarking on a new journey after tonight. This next phase of your lives will take you all down various paths. Some of you have chosen to use the skills and training learned here at Greater Lowell to enter the workforce right away, some of you have chosen to continue your education, and some of you have chosen to serve your country. Whatever you chose, I hope you do it with pride. We are all proud of you for what you have accomplished thus far, and now it is up to you to continue to make us, and more importantly yourselves proud. Your education has given you the intangible reward of having choices as to what your future will be.

With all of the unsettling news we are bombarded with each day, war, record gas prices, foreclosures, and a slumping economy, things can feel a bit scary in the real world. What is important for you to remember is that you live in a country where you have tremendous opportunity for success and now, with your diploma under your arm, you have earned the freedom to make your own choices.

It would give me a great deal of pleasure to send you off into the world with a guarantee of success. Unfortunately, there is no sure plan, no guaranteed right choice. You cannot map out your future in every detail and along the way you will make mistakes. That's okay. Don't be afraid to try.

Graduates of the class of 2008, as you head out and begin your new venture in life, remember to follow your heart. Choose your conscience and let it guide you through your journey. There will be times when you feel like you are not on the fast track, but life is a marathon, not a sprint. It is more important to live happy and full lives with no regrets. I leave the graduates with one last piece of advice, that it's okay to be unsure about tomorrow. You will make choices about the future and those choices will teach you who are.

Thank you and good luck.

In Loving Memory of Stephen Whelton

Lauren's Poem For Daddy

Dedicated By:
Lauren and Sean Whelton

"God saw that he was getting tired
And the cure was not to be,
So He put His arms around him
And whispered, "Come with Me."

With tearful eyes we watched him suffer
And saw him fade away.
Although we loved him dearly,
We could not make him stay.

A golden heart stopped beating,
Busy little hands to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.

It's lonesome here without you
We miss you so each day,
Our lives aren't the same
Since you went away.

When days are sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
We seem to hear you whisper,
"Cheer up and carry on."

Each time we see your picture,
You seem to smile and say,
"Don't cry, I'm in God's keeping,
We'll meet again someday."

To: David N

Love: Dad "You a black person too. You a street wise man. This card is coming. Put mine for nothing. At 16."

While your school career may be coming to an end, your life is just starting. You have proven time and time again that if you want something, there is nothing you can't achieve. That will always carry you well in your coming years. My friends, my town, our community, we'll never forget that "We lived as one." You know you are nothing else matters but the fight! The crew and you had a great run at school and hopefully are the foundation for friendships for years ahead! You are when everyone wants, a ride friend in dark and light and everything in between. I am very proud of all you have done and will do and though you think you may be different, in a way that we are the same especially in our values, our family, friends, and love.

To: David N

Mr. Quincey Cloughley

From: Family

We are so proud of you. Some trails are easy, other are difficult. To be successful you must commit to the end. You are a shrewd navigator through each trail and you're the end. Your success will ride through high mountains, crossing mountains to reach the peak of achievement through all types of terrain. Congratulations!

Mr. Richard Cloughley

From: Mom and Dad

You have gained strength, courage and determination to every experience in which you looked down in the face of the world and said, "I want to do this." I can take the next steps that come along. As you have did with your strength and determination you will do it. It is a journey that is impossible to fail. It is a journey that is holy. It is a journey that is your own. We are proud of the person you have become. Congratulations!

Mr. Donald Larson

From: Mom

We are so proud of you for the first time when you were born. Today is your day. I am the proud of knowing the person you are and when a young man you have become. I am so proud of you and because I am. You are more than you will ever know.

Mr. Donald Larson

From: Dad

We are proud of what you've accomplished and I know that because you're going to do it. You will succeed.

To: William A. True Jr.

Love: Mom and Dad

Congratulations to our 2004 CHS graduate. Now that you have graduated, your adventure has begun. Your schooling has prepared you for the race this first run. We proudly praise you for your efforts and send great wishes too for a future filled with happiness and your fondest dreams come true.

To: Audrey Arcandier

From: Mama C

In checkers you have to think ahead or else you get jumped. Remember, people out there do not like to be plan. So keep planning. Be prepared to change as needed. It may seem but stay firm and trust in your vision and dream and I know you will be successful. Congratulations.

To: Jonathan Moore

Love: Mama C

People who don't reach their goals don't possess enough passion to define them or enough persistence to follow through to the joy of achieving them. Winners know where they're going, what they plan to do along the way, and who will be sharing the adventure with them. I believe your life will seem like a perfume warmer - full of "Passion" and "Obsession" and leading to "Joy" as you move forward achieving your goal. Congratulations.

To: Jay Whiting

From: Mama C

Perspective is everything. Two adolescents were asked what they were doing. The first said, "I'm doing the stone and block." The second replied, "I'm a team that's building a cathedral." Remember what you do look at the big picture. I believe you will build beautiful cathedrals throughout your life. Congratulations.

To: Tom McFlan

Love: Mama C

You are like most successful people: a little crazy and a lot stuck to it. You're willing to have a lot of anything, but miserable - and have another go. You're like success because. Without the truth. All right, guess, only when the time comes out. Because you are not afraid to risk your neck and I know you will have much success in your life. Congratulations.

To: Stephanie Hume

Love: Mama C

A really smart person says into me, "As you go through life, let things you learn to do come come. I know you get over the fear of doing it. Twice to learn how to do it. A third time to know that whether you like it or not. You will find that every time you come out to the rock, it will be there. Enjoy every accomplishment you achieve throughout your life. Congratulations.

To: Carol Rodriguez

Love: Mama C

Never, never, never, never give up on anything you want to achieve. Although you have much strength and things don't require strength or ability. They require will. In the circumstances between themselves and themselves, the person always wins. And the much strength but by being a person. I believe you have much strength to do anything you choose in your life. Congratulations.

A message from your 2008 yearbook advisor:

I'd like to start by saying that this was an amazing year for me. I am very fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with such wonderful young adults while creating this yearbook for the class of 2008. The 2008 yearbook committee (Amanda Sullivan, Elizabeth Chapman, Heather Farrah, Jessica Letendre, Caitlin Leblanc and Michael Paquette) really did a phenomenal job putting this book of memories together. Each one of you showed dedication and enthusiasm during every meeting and with every assignment. This book is the product of your hard work. I'd also like to acknowledge a very special graduate; Michael Paquette. Michael was the creative mastermind behind the 2008 yearbook and is incredibly talented. In addition, a special thank you to my fellow advisors for coordinating this year's events. All of your efforts are greatly appreciated.

Class of 2008, you showed throughout the school year camaraderie towards fellow classmates, school spirit and the desire to succeed. This yearbook was created to capture those special moments to be forever cherished. Please look at this book often to remember your last year at Greater Lowell Technical High School.

Finally, congratulations to each one of you! I wish you the best that life has to offer and hope that it brings you lots of smiles and tons of joy. Thank you for an unforgettable year!

Reach for the stars.
